

The Foundational Hand

A Two-Day Workshop with Randall M. Hasson

April 21–22, 2018, 9 AM – 4 PM

Location: Four Hills Mobile Home Park, Albuquerque, NM

For beginning or intermediate students, this workshop will work with the analysis, structure and mechanics of a calligraphic hand called Foundational. We will begin with familiarizing ourselves with the characteristics of the letterform and use tools that facilitate ease of writing. We will also delve into the history and evolution of the chosen letterform, creating historical context for the style of writing and familiarizing ourselves with its characteristics such as entry and exit strokes, proportion, branching and size & weight. We will look at examples of how contemporary calligraphers work with the basic hand.

For beginning students, day two will continue work with these forms while intermediate and advanced participants will have the option of working on variations of the foundational, using techniques and tools to modernize the hand to suit their own style and personality. We'll address beginnings, endings and alternate forms to give your Foundational Hand a personality of its own.
